The FLRA Releases Training Video on Labor Management Forums

On April 26, 2021, President Joseph Biden established the White House Task Force on Worker Organizing and Empowerment via Executive Order 14025 and directed the Task Force to “identify executive branch policies, practices, and programs that could be used, consistent with applicable law, to promote [the] Administration’s policy of support for worker power, worker organizing, and collective bargaining.” The President named Vice President Kamala Harris as Chair of the Task Force and Secretary of Labor Marty Walsh as its Vice-Chair.

On August 4, 2022, the Federal Labor Relations Authority (FLRA) and the Union of Authority Employees (UAE), the exclusive representative of the FLRA’s bargaining-unit employees, announced their agreement to reestablish the FLRA’s Labor-Management Forum (LMF).

The Office of the General Counsel is pleased to announce the release of a training video on Labor-Management Forums. The video educates federal employees, unions, and managers on what Labor-Management Forums are, how they can be integrated into the collective bargaining process using Pre-Decisional Involvement (PDI), and on ways they can improve labor-management relations. The video is posted on the Agency’s YouTube channel, as well as on the FLRA’s video training library page.

###

The FLRA administers the labor-management relations program for 2.1 million non-Postal federal employees worldwide, approximately 1.2 million of whom are represented in 2,200 bargaining units. It is charged with providing leadership in establishing policies and guidance related to federal sector labor-management relations and with resolving disputes under, and ensuring compliance with, the Federal Service Labor-Management Relations Statute.
